ATP MODULAR THEORY

OVERVIEW

ATP (A) Modular Theory Distance Learning is the theoretical training for the ATP completed with distance learning training. The minimum duration of the course is 3 months but it may vary depending on the student's personal schedule. Before completing the theory distance program, the student will attend a number of brush-up lectures for the final examinations.

PRE-ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

- Private Pilot License (PPL)

THE THEORETICAL TRAINING

The ATP distance learning theoretical knowledge course comprises of Bristol GS Computer Based Training (CBT), approved interactive video training, slide presentation, progress tests, sample exams and brush-up sessions for the final examinations. The student may also optionally purchase the hard copy Bristol GS Training Manuals (Books) for the 13 subjects. The 13 subjects are: (010) Air Law, (021) Aircraft General Knowledge, (022) Instruments & Electronics, (031) Flight Performance and Planning - Mass and Balance, (032) Performance, (033) Flight Planning & Monitoring, (040) Human Performance & Limitations, (050) Meteorology, (061) General Navigation, (062) Radio Navigation, (070) Operational Procedures, (081) Principles of Flight, (090) Communications.

ATP MODULAR THEORY

COST ANALYSIS OF THE COURSE

Type of Service	Training hrs (Min)	Duration (Avg)	Installment Payment Plan (for minimum hrs)
ATP Theoretical Distance Learning Training Brush-up lectures Bristol Computer Based Training (CBT)	80 hrs	3 months	✈ € 3,000 will be paid at enrollment
			€ 3,000

*An (Optional) additional payment of €1,000 will be paid at enrolment if hardcopy books are also ordered.

 Theoretical Examination Fees (initial and re-takes) are not included in the offer. The fee is €50/exam.